Key Concepts

The God of the Bible is a missionary God. The fall in the garden did not put an end to God's mission—it shifted His mission to a new dimension. After the Fall, God's mission became rooted in His initiative to redeem fallen humanity. Because of His promise of redemption in Genesis 3:15, Scripture, as a whole, is the narrative of the various missionary endeavors undertaken by God to rescue and restore sinful humanity to His original design for them. God refuses to give up on us.

Refuge in the Lord

Psalms 86: 5 For you, O Lord, are good and forgiving, abounding in steadfast love
to all who call upon you.

Verse 11 Teach me your way, O Lord,
that I may walk in your truth;
unite my heart to fear your name.

Verse 15 But you, O Lord,, are a God merciful and gracious, slow to anger and abounding in steadfast love and faithfulness

How do you think about your own life? Do you feel your sinfulness? The message of the Bible is that God saves sinners. God does the saving. When Jesus was born, Jesus was God's grace and mercy as a human. In Jesus God's goodness could be touched, seen, hugged. And he went to a cross and perished in order to win over for every penitent sinner the full and free love of God, in endless supply amid all of our weakness.

As you ponder your sinfulness, ponder His graciousness—a grace that ever outstrips even your sin.
